Since 1967, Wisconsin Singers has served as UW's most renowned professional entertainment company, focused on Broadway-caliber productions, hands-on educational opportunities, and community service. Wisconsin Singers students share a passion for performance, learning from onstage experience or internships that provide hands-on real world experience in a lively and fun atmosphere. Singers opportunities represent the UW at its best, marking the Wisconsin Singers experience as one of the most impressive involvement opportunities at the UW.

As a non-profit organization, the Wisconsin Singers is almost entirely run by the students themselves. Performers, theater techs and interns handle many of the elements of production, from management to operations and music rehearsal, working alongside professionals who arrange, choreograph and rehearse a 90 minute revue style show featuring the most talented singers, dancers and instrumentalists on our campus..

Wisconsin Singers has helped community service organizations and UW alumni chapters raise more than one million dollars towards their own local funding goals. Combining volunteerism with a love for University outreach and performance, Wisconsin Singers is worth checking out. www.wisconsinsingers.com
